

NCFR Review Copy Policy for

Family Life Education. The Practice of Family Science
Edited by Michael J. Walcheski and Jennifer S. Reinke

Because the National Council on Family Relations is a small publisher we are not able to provide free desk copies of Family Life Education: The Practice of Family Science. Instead we can provide online access to information about the book.

NCFR has created a modified PDF of Family Life Education: The Practice of Family Science. It includes the front pages of the book, including the Table of Contents, and the first three pages of each chapter. This will give the reader a good overview of the contents of the book.

In addition, we provide an expanded Table of Contents that includes the headings and sub-headings within each chapter.

The modified PDF and expanded Table of Contents are accessible at <https://www.ncfr.org/fle-practice-family-science>
