I’m pleased to introduce NCFR’s 2019 annual report, in which you’ll learn about notable accomplishments by members of the NCFR community; see a snapshot of NCFR’s financial position and activities; and read about the many supporters, leaders, and volunteers without whom NCFR’s work would not be possible.

NCFR members gave their time and talents to power our organization in numerous ways in 2019, including but not limited to spearheading the launch of the NCFR Mentoring Academy; making possible a new Résumé and Curriculum Vitae Review Program; and ramping up publication of excellent NCFR policy briefs.

Members’ engagement with NCFR and in their own work continues to be essential to better understanding and strengthening families.

Though my time as president of the NCFR Board of Directors has ended, I encourage you to keep in contact with current board members about how NCFR can best support you professionally.

Thank you, and I look forward to working with the NCFR community to advance the organization and Family Science in 2020.

NCFR President, 2017–2019
NCFR Mentoring Academy: Members Support Early-Career Professional Development

A dedicated committee in our Students and New Professionals cohort gave their time, energy, and thought over multiple years to plan, and launch in 2019, the NCFR Mentoring Academy — a much-needed resource to help members grow and advance professionally.

We were thrilled to welcome the inaugural class of mentors and mentees in November at the NCFR Annual Conference (pictured above). Pairs will be in contact at least once per month during 2020, working toward goals that support their professional development. A huge thanks to all who applied for the Mentoring Academy in 2019!

Members Drive Production of 2 New NCFR Policy Briefs in 2019

NCFR’s research and policy briefs editor — longtime member Elaine A. Anderson, Ph.D. — and several accomplished member-authors made it possible to publish two more stellar NCFR policy briefs in 2019, continuing the organization’s work to educate policymakers and inform decisions that affect families at the federal, state, and local levels. Read the two briefs at ncf.org/policy-briefs:

Immigrant Families Across the Life Course: Policy Impacts on Physical and Mental Health
by Colleen K. Vesely, Ph.D., Diamond Y. Bravo, Ph.D., and Mariana T. Guzzardo, Ph.D.

Farm Family Stressors: Private Problems, Public Issue
by Bonnie Braun, Ph.D.

In addition to all the ways NCFR members disseminated these briefs to their own networks, NCFR also was able to provide the briefs to U.S. legislators.

Thank You to Our 2019 Benefactors and Donors

Benefactors choose the highest level of NCFR membership that includes a tax-deductible donation that helps subsidize student memberships.
